RIVER and RACECOURSE

As organiser of King of the Alps we wanted to provide an honest description of the race course so people can properly assess their own capabilities before registering for the event.

MARATHON

River Grade	III-IV	Quellenhof- Football camp Rifiano based on normal water levels for time of year. Higher water level will push it up to grade IV-IV+
Distance	8km
Time approx.	30 min	depending on personal capabilities and water levels
Water Temperature	12°C

River Description.

The start of the race heads straight into a grade IV rapid, it is a mass start i.e. expect to be going down it with 120 people. The river is continuous with lots of rocks and stoppers, throughout the course there are grade III and IV sections.

Athlete

We expect athletes to be competent and experienced on grade IV water, with a very confident eskimo roll or self rescuing techniques for OC1. You will be doing all of the above under race conditions and expect to be tired and out of breath. If you do get separated from the other paddlers you will need to lead yourself down the river.

We would strongly recommend that all athletes run the course a minimum of 2 times before the day of the race to familiarize yourself with the lines.

There are 4 start groups

- Start 1_ K1/C1 Senior Men
- Start 2_ K1 Juniors/ Masters
- Start 3_ K1 All K1 Women
- Start 4_ OC1 and Packraft R1

* Male Masters who wish to participate in the final must register as a Senior, so that they are in the same start group as the other Senior men.

SPRINT FINAL Moos in Passier

Top 32 from the marathon. K1/C1 Senior men

Top 5 from the marathon. K1/C1 Senior woman - There must be a minimum of 3 athletes in the category to compete in the final. If there are not enough woman to run the final course the queen of the alps will go to the winner of the marathon race)

River Grade	V+
Distance	500m
Time approx.	2min 30secs
Water Temperature	10°

River Description

Continuous section of grade V+ with 1 artificial drop, tight, technical, fast with large holes, a limited amount of eddies and a waterfall merging on one side.

Athlete

Only athletes that are competent on class 5+ water with exceptional whitewater skills, experience and knowledge. Pre-course training is obligatory.

if you qualify for the final but you do not want to start in the final, please communicate this to the race Director. Thus the next athlete moves up on the final start list.

For your own safety please be realistic when assessing your own personal paddling ability. If any of the organisers are in doubt over a athletes personal competence we have the right to withdraw you from the competition
